As someone who has worked with youth all his life, I know the importance of positive outlets for kids in the after-school hours. Youth who have access to after-school sports, arts and educational opportunities are far less likely to get involved in drugs, violence and other negative activities.

In an effort to help support Illinois park districts and other recreation agencies that provide after-school programming for our young people, my office offers Park District Youth Program License Plates. Proceeds from the sale of these plates go to park districts and other agencies that provide innovative, quality after-school programming for area youth.

You can show your support for our young people by purchasing and displaying a set of colorful Park District Youth Program plates on your vehicle.
